

Hot Stock Picks for Monday 07-11-2011

CSKI - China Sky One Medical develops and sells over-the-counter branded nutritional supplements, and over-the-counter plant and herb-based pharmaceutical and medicinal products primarily in China.

Its products include slim patch to foster weight loss and prevent weight gain; pain relief patch used for various ailments, including anti-hypertension patch that enhances blood circulation and reduces blood pressure. We see a great potential, Very Attractive

LOCM – LOCAL operates Local.com, a local business directory site that provides information on approximately 14 million local businesses. The company also provides local search services on its local syndication network of regional media sites and advertiser services.

Daily deals going local, this company acquiring small rivals to grow could be a potential target for a national player. It trades at high multiples but we think it is in attractive space, keep an eye, speculative.
